

Underdogs defy Expectations

Last night Leicester defied expectations by winning 3-2 to Sevilla, even though the public thought they knew the verdict would be negative after the team's performance, losing 2-1 against Sevilla in the first leg. Even after dropping points in the Premier League, Leicester came back and won on aggregate 3-2. The captain Wes Morgan scored from inside the box in the 27th minute. Marc Albrighton scored in the 54th minute off a ricochet off French born Adil Rami. Overall, the game was a good game and both sides were in the match; it could have gone either way. And quite honestly as a country I imagine that we're all happy that at least one English team made it to the quarter final.
